Lela and Gary;

I am just back at my office, I was at the Museum yesterday, but unhooked up to the world. The place was jammed, as it was Wednesday.

Thank You! We would not have come close to what happened without the terrific press job you guys did, filling the place with reporters, and sending them all home well-served. The public radio pieces, the Post Star, the TV, all flooded in with great stories and images. I have linked the North Country Public Radio piece to the web site, and am copying the New York Times for the brochure.

"Marries stunning design and.... science with sizzle through high-tech multi-sensory exhibitions."

Anyway, it was a day for the ages, the reviews are all as good as they could be, and you all set the table and the served up the main course and desserts.

Thank you. We never would have pulled it off without the orange brigade.
